REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON GENDER, LABOUR AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT ON THE NATIONAL YOUTH COUNCIL AMENDMENT BILL 2024

1.0 INTRODUCTION

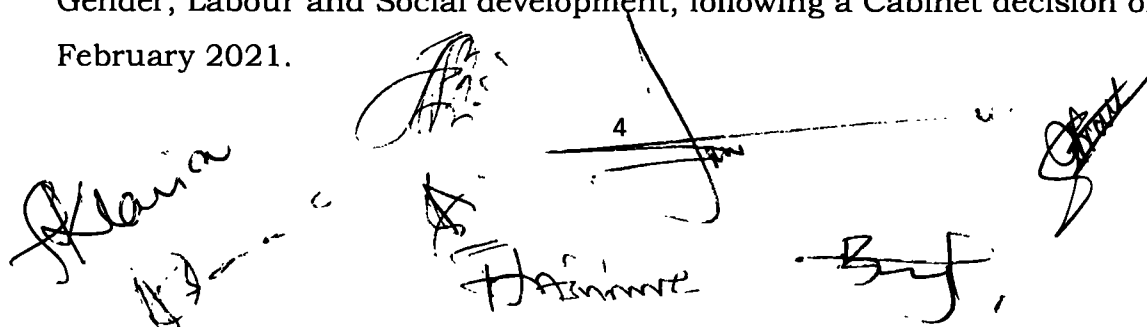

The National Youth Council Amendment Bill was read for the first time on 9th April 2024 and referred to the Committee on Gender, Labour and Social Development in accordance with Rule 129 (1) of the Rules of Procedure of Parliament.

The Committee considered the Bill and now reports

1.1 BACKGROUND TO THE BILL

In accordance with Article 32 of the Constitution of the Republic of Uganda, 1995 as amended, the Government of Uganda is committed to affirmative action in favor of marginalized groups on the basis of gender, age, disability or any other reason created by history, tradition or custom, for the purpose of redressing imbalances which exist against them. Thus, this provision caters for affirmative action for women, youth, children, the elderly and Persons with Disabilities. In addition, the Constitution points out that all persons are equal, regardless of sex, age, disability and status (Article 20), and prohibits discrimination on the basis of these distinctions (Article 21). The rights of youth are guaranteed under Article 32 which provides for affirmative action for special interest groups on the basis of age. The primary law on youth affairs is the National Council for Youth Act Cap 319 which also creates the National Council for youth.

The rationalisation of Government agencies policy seeks to mainstream the functions of the secretariat of the National Youth Council and those of secretariats of councils and other special interest groups into the Ministry of Gender, Labour and Social development, following a Cabinet decision of 22nd February 2021.

Handwritten signatures and a crossed-out line with the number 4.

2.0 OBJECT OF THE BILL

- (1) The main objective of this Bill is to give effect to the Government Policy for Rationalisation of Government Agencies and Public Expenditure adopted by Cabinet on 22nd February, 2021 and contained in Cabinet Minute No. 43 (CT 2021)
- (2) Without prejudice to the general effect of subsection (1), the following objectives shall be deemed to fall under the objective specified in that subsection-
- (a) enable the mainstreaming of the functions of the secretariat of the National Youth Council into the Ministry of Gender, Labour and Social Development;
 - (b) the facilitation of efficient and effective service delivery by clearly delineating the mandates and functions of government agencies and departments and thereby avoiding duplication of mandates and functions;
- the promotion of coordinated administrative arrangements, policies and procedures.

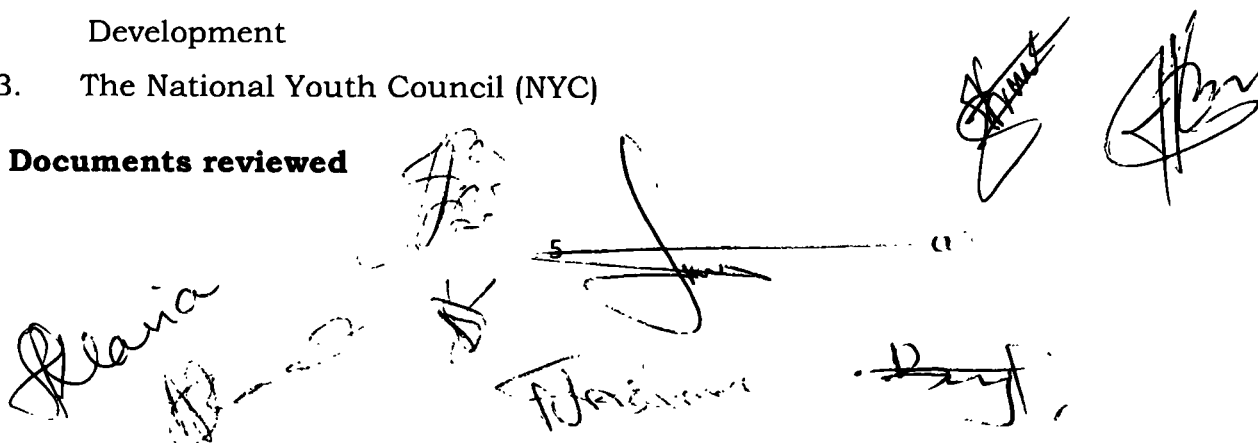

3.0 METHODOLOGY

3.1 Meetings and Written Submissions

The Committee met with and received written memoranda from the following:

1. The Hon. Minister – Ministry of Public Service
2. The Hon. Minister – Ministry of Gender, Labour and Social Development
3. The National Youth Council (NYC)

3.2 Documents reviewed

The bottom of the page features several handwritten signatures and initials. On the left, there is a signature that appears to be 'Kiana'. In the center, there are initials 'H' and 'K'. To the right of these, there is a large, stylized signature that looks like 'J'. Further right, there are two more signatures: one that looks like 'D' and another that looks like 'B'. There are also some smaller, less legible marks and initials scattered around these main signatures.

The Committee made reference to the following documents:

1. The Constitution of the Republic of Uganda
2. The Report of the Adhoc Committee on the February 2021 Cabinet Decision to rationalize Government Agencies
3. The following Acts of Parliament
 - a) The National Youth Council Act, Cap 319
4. The Ministry of Public Service – Uganda, Rationalization of Agencies and Public Expenditure (RAPEX) – Progress of Implementation

4.0 RATIONALE FOR THE MERGERS

Government has put forward the following arguments to justify the rationalisation of Government Agencies including;

- The rapid expansion of Government Agencies in Uganda has resulted in a number of problems, including unclear jurisdiction, excessive expenditure of the National Treasury at the expense of efficient service delivery, overstretching of the Government's ability to support Agencies, and salary differences between Agency employees and traditional Civil Servants. These issues have also led to the wastage of resources that could have been used to fund other vital public services like health, education, and infrastructure development.
- According to Government, the Councils under the Social Development Sector carry out similar mandates and therefore their administrative structures should be merged into one unit, the National Secretariat for Special Interest Groups.

The bottom of the page contains several handwritten signatures. On the left, there is a signature that appears to be 'Kiana'. In the center, there is a signature that has been crossed out with a large 'X'. To the right of the crossed-out signature, there is another signature. On the far right, there is a large, stylized signature. The page number '6' is visible in the center, below the crossed-out signature.

5.0 IMPLICATIONS OF RATIONALISATION IN LIGHT OF AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

During the interaction with the Councils whose secretariats are set to be merged, the Committee was informed that the proposed rationalisation of the Social Development Sector could have the following negative implications.

- i. Negative effect on Affirmative Action: Affirmative action involves complex measures in favour of marginalized groups in order to redress imbalances, which may take years to impact society. Representatives of the different Councils noted that Uganda had been making progress in this area, but challenges remain. They argue that merging the Secretariats of the Councils could reverse the progress and affect the country's international credibility in achievements towards equality of persons.

Moreover, Uganda's notable progress in its affirmative action measures has made the country a leading example for other countries to benchmark on best practices.
- ii. Generalization of gender issues: Stakeholders contend that merging Secretariats will lose the unique aspects of each Council, leading to some issues being neglected or forgotten. Unique funding needs could also be ignored or undermined under this arrangement, for example, the multiple types of disability with their need for unique assistive devices might be lost in the process.
- iii. Potential effect on compliance to international instruments: The Social Sector Council Secretariats work towards implementation of various human rights instruments that Government is signatory to, which work may be compromised by the merger. These include the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (Agenda 2063); the Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Discrimination Against Women; the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;

Handwritten signatures and notes at the bottom of the page, including "Dear a", "By", and "H. K. K."

International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights; Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disability and Convention on the Rights of the Child.

- iv. Loss of jobs and further marginalization: The Bill, in the relevant clauses, states that staff of the Councils may be redeployed subject to availability of positions. This implies that some people may lose their jobs if no positions are available, hence further marginalizing persons of those groups currently employed.

The Committee notes that the transitional process of the employees who may lose jobs is unclear and non-committal.

- v. Potential loss of specialised skills: The Parliament Ad Hoc Committee on Rationalisation in its 2022 report noted the potential to lose specialised skills and labour, as personnel could opt out of the merged institutions and join the private sector¹. For the Social Development Sector, the skills are key in monitoring the status on equality of persons, which helps in reporting to the national, regional and international bodies on these indicators. Government could lose experienced staff to local and international NGOs, thus affecting overall efficiency of the Social Development Sector.
- vi. Potential lapse on social development: The Sector exists primarily for promotion of social development of Uganda's people, and the current structure tries to ensure inclusivity in the planning for all Ugandans. Disrupting the structure could affect the country's Social Development Goals, especially for the most vulnerable. Persons with Disability, women, youth, children and the elderly are still discriminated against, they are still underfunded and still have fewer opportunities for school, work and social protection. The Councils and their Secretariats help government to track, monitor and guide on the interventions necessary to redress these social imbalances.

The bottom of the page features several handwritten signatures and initials in black ink. On the left, there is a large signature that appears to be 'Klevia'. To its right are several smaller, more stylized initials and signatures, including one that looks like 'Buffy' and another that is partially legible as 'Dorismore'. 6.0 COMMITTEE OBSERVATIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Committee makes the following observations and recommendations

1. Loss of expertise of technical officers

The country will lose out on highly experienced technical officers because the bill does not guarantee that they will be re-deployed in the National Secretariat.

Recommendation

Government should give priority to technical experts and the highly skilled while staffing the National Secretariat so that Government does not lose on the return on investments.

2. Inadequate consultation of stake holders

The National Youth Council who are key stakeholders were not consulted on the rationalization process although the Commissioner Equity and Compliance represented MoGLSD on the working group.

Recommendation

The Ministry of Public Service should in future carry out adequate consultation with all the relevant stakeholders especially with the implementing structures prior to formulation of Bills.

7.0 CONCLUSION

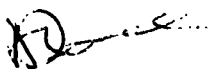

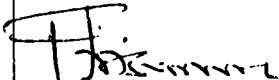

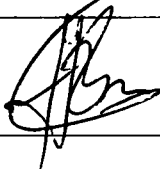

The Committee associates itself with the findings of the Ad hoc Committee which was instituted to consider the rationalization of Government Agencies, that the Secretariats of Councils should not be rationalized, since the special interest groups are already marginalized. However, in the event of Rationalisation of the Social Development Sector, it is important to minimize the adverse consequences that may affect Special interest groups. It is also important to be mindful of the core factors for which Parliament established the Councils for Special Interest Groups.

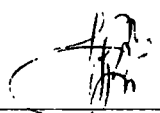

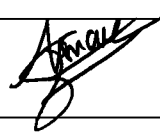

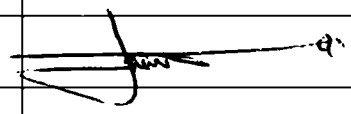

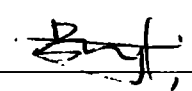

Handwritten signatures and a large 'X' mark. The signatures include 'Keara', 'Baf', 'H. Sumner', and a signature on the right. A large 'X' is drawn over the page number '9'.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE NATIONAL YOUTH COUNCIL (AMENDMENT) BILL 2024

INSERTION OF NEW CLAUSE

The bill is amended by inserting new clause immediately before Clause 1 as follows-

“Commencement

This Act shall come into force on a date appointed by the Minister by statutory instrument.”

Justification

- To give room for the process of rationalization to take effect.

CLAUSE 6: SUBSTITUTION SECTION 10 OF PRINCIPAL ACT

For Clause 6 there is substituted the following-

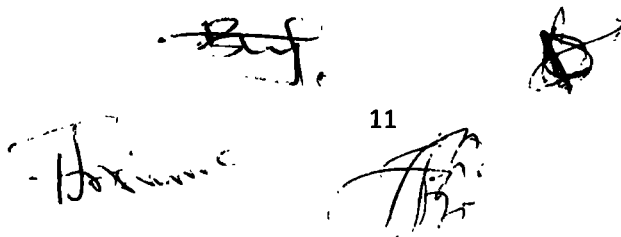

Clause 6 of the bill is amended by substituting for the proposed section 11 the following-

“11. Secretariat

The secretariat of the National Youth Council shall be the National Secretariat for Special Interest Groups created under section 5 of the National Women’s Council (Amendment) Act 2024.”

Justification

- To give effect to the process of rationalisation of Government agencies by merging the secretariats of all special interest groups into one secretariat.
- To ensure that all the Councils for special interest groups are given a fair opportunity to participate in the recruitment of the staff who are to assist the councils in fulfilling their mandates under their respective laws.

- To ensure that Councils don't lose their autonomous status guaranteed under the respective laws.
- The proposal is in line with the spirit of the Ad hoc committee of Parliament which noted that merging the agencies in the social development sector would diminish the visibility of the unique challenges of the different special interest groups and so it is important that the councils are ably represented in the decision on the composition of the National Secretariat for special interest groups.
- To give clarity on the mandate of the National Secretariat for special interest groups.

CLAUSE 8: AMENDMENT OF SECTION 12 OF PRINCIPAL ACT

For clause 8, there is substituted the following-

"Repeal of section 12"

Section 12 of the principal Act is repealed.

Justification

- This is a consequential amendment following the establishment of the National Secretariat of special interest groups under section 5 of the National Women Council Act Cap 318.

CLAUSE 10: SAVINGS

Clause 10 is amended in subsection (2) by substituting for the word, "may" the word, "shall" and the words "public service" for the words, "National Secretariat for special interest groups."

Justification

- To guarantee employment for staff that are already serving the respective Councils given the fact that with the merging of the secretariats of the Councils into one, there will still be an opportunity of the current staff to be absorbed.
- To harness and capitalize on the already existing expertise and experience in serving Councils for special interest groups.
